
Tenimenti Luigi d'Alessandro

Tenimenti d'Alessandro is a historic winery in the Val di Chiana. After years of researches, we are realizing Syrah true vocation for Cortona terroir, making wines that perfectly express the optimal relationship between the soil and the vine.

Everyday we celebrate a profound connection with this enchanting land through the rigorous pursuit of excellence. This mission requires a complete dedication to the vineyards followed by accurate winemaking techniques, looking for the highest expression of Cortona wines.

Sulfur and copper are the only treatments we used in the vineyards; the soil is lightly worked for the whole year to encourage oxygenation. The main goal in the cellar is to respect the variety in its primary essence and local character.

We treat each vines individually. We train plants in order them to self-regulate the yield and auto-prevent diseases.
